COVID-19 had a strong yet short-term impact on the beauty market

- Due to COVID-19, cosmetics’ sales volume in China declined by 29.9% in February 2020 compared with the same period in 2019. However it had recovered by April. During the outbreak, people consumed and talked more about skincare products than cosmetics.

- Since lips and much of cheeks are covered while wearing a mask, eye makeup products received more attention than before. “Mask makeup (口罩妆)” had become a hot topic among Chinese beauty consumers. The new trend helped brands and KOLs find new ways to communicate with consumers.

COVID-19 brought out a beauty e-commerce battlefield

- COVID-19 caused beauty sales to move from offline to online channels as consumers were hesitant to visit offline stores.
- Additionally, foreign brands’ sales declined dramatically in their home countries, thus they doubled-down on Chinese e-commerce platforms.

In 2020, 1,600 brands participated in the JD Luxury shopping festival.

The average turnover for the quarter increased by 20 times from last year.

The number of first-time buyers increased by 180% YoY.

In 2020, the sales of self-care products on JD Black Friday (27th Nov) increased 50% YoY.

The three most popular brands in the self-care category were foreign brands Kao, Shiseido and Ryo.

Compared to 2019, the total sales of the 10-days shopping season grew 180%.
Live streaming and private traffic: Two key beauty market strategies

- Live streaming is increasingly popular due to the interactive experience, China’s live streaming revenue has more than doubled from 2019 to 2020 (from 438 billion RMB to 961 billion RMB).
- Chinese beauty brands have a talent in leveraging private traffic. Some brands transformed their business model quickly in the heat of the pandemic, and embraced private traffic marketing.

Lin Qingxuan’s private traffic marketing during COVID-19

Before

With the traffic from Xiaowanzi, Perfect Diary increased repurchase rate through consumers benefits, incentives, and guiding consumers to order.

- After adding Xiaowanzi’s account, she will give customers access to get WeChat “lucky money” and send a personal invitation to enter a private traffic group. The promotion card to add Xiaowanzi is attached to products sold on Tmall flagship store.
- Different content is sent in different groups. On holidays, the brand sends one-on-one private messages to share offers and Mini Programs. The tone of voice is funny and casual to narrow the psychological distance between users and Xiaowanzi.

Problem: Over reliance on marketing and neglected product quality

In the top 10 beauty brands of Tmall Double 11 during the past 3 years, Perfect Diary only appeared once, in 2019. The profit couldn’t cover the heavy marketing costs of Perfect Diary.

In 2020, more high-end brands such as La Mer and Sulwhasoo invested more in China’s Double 11 Shopping Festival due to the global pandemic. Thus, Perfect Diary had to face more fierce competition.

According to the top 10 list in Double 11, in recent years, Chinese consumers preferred high-quality cosmetics. But the R&D expenses of Perfect Diary only accounted a tiny fraction of its operating costs, which is obviously lower than its marketing expenses and its competitor L’Oreal. Therefore, how to enhance the ability of product R&D is one of the burning issues of Perfect Diary.
3 Florasis
a Chinese cultural jewel through intricate product design

This makes Florasis a highly recognizable brand and it is an element that is highly appreciated by consumers.

Strategy 2: Use Tmall as the key platform to increase conversion

Unlike other brands which diversify their sales channels, Florasis focuses its efforts on Tmall and funnels all social media traffic to Tmall. The brand has a marketing automation strategy using Alibaba's Alimama tools, which allows it to redirect users with more detailed recommendations and also to re-activate them when they are interested in the brand’s content on a platform other than Tmall.

In addition, Florasis caters its IP collaborations based on consumer groups they have not yet reached.

Customers social community function
Visitors can scroll through each product’s comments, users’ experience, photos taken by buyers from Tmall. They can also ask questions about the product just like asking questions on Quora and Zhihu.

Strategy 2: Grow with the emerging social platforms (1/2)

- WeChat official accounts were created in 2012. The years 2016 to 2018 was the golden age of WeChat Official Accounts - a lot of content creators produced high quality content, yet there were few brands on WeChat.
- HFP seized the opportunity. In 2016 HFP released many posts on WeChat and gained a large group of initial customers.
- In addition, HFP created its own demand through educating consumers on the science of skincare by WeChat articles.

Strategy 2: Grow with the emerging social platforms (2/2)

- In 2018, when social commerce platform Xiaohongshu just started to get popular, HFP launched flagship store and official account on it and started to work on product seeding with KOL/KOC to create word-of-mouth.

- HFP also produced a lot of trendy content with latest hot topics.

- Cooperated with celebrity Wang Feifei who became popular in TV variety show in 2020.

- Use popular concept in the topic - skintellectuals.

- Follow trendy contents.

- Started to work on product seeding with KOL/KOC to create Word-of-mouth.

- Except official account, also opened RED store.

- 2.08 million Likes & Collects.
Strategy 3: Tapping into the idol fan economy (1/2)

- For other brands, celebrity collaborations are general: shooting advertising videos, live streaming and inviting the celebrity to the live streaming room or recording short videos with celebrities. All of the activities are online, as a result, the effect of celebrities would be limited.
- In contrast to most brands, HFP also hosts offline fans meeting campaign, celebrity's birthday parties and sends out gifts with the brand ambassador Wang Yibo’s signatures to customers.
Strategy 3: Tapping into the idol fan economy (2/2)

- HFP signed a 3-year contract with Wang Yibo in 2018 as spokesman of its signature serum line, which helped HFP gain a large group of young female customers.

- The brand went further to produce merchandise for Wang Yibo’s fans, which integrated the brand’s physical features with Wang Yibo’s interests, leverage fans’ economy to the fullest extent.

Problems: Products don’t live up to premium image & relies too much on celebrities

- Although HFP specifically targets “Skintellectuals” and positions the brand as a professional skincare brand, HFP's products are not strong enough, over half of its products are priced under 200 RMB, while the premium line is priced at about 400 RMB. Its claimed products effects have not been totally proven.

- If HFP cannot go deeper into the product research & development, it will be hard for the brand to maintain the professional brand image and convince customers in the future.

- The brand is putting itself in a passive situation. Relying too much on the celebrity and fans will not benefit the brand in the long-term.

- It can also be risky if the celebrity has negative news one day. Or if the brand does something wrong to annoy the fans.

- The price of Winona is still a little higher than other cosmeceutical skincare brands which also focus on sensitive skin, including overseas big brands and domestic brands.
- The average unit-price of the cream from other brand are around 3 RMB/g, but Winona’s unit-price is over 5 RMB/g, which is about 1.5 times more expensive.
- But for customers who are willing to pay for higher price, they would also prefer to choose big brands, so if Winona wants to attract customers, it should have some other benefits.
- How to further develop with the concept of "sensitive skin repair" or "Cosmeceuticals"
- When “Sensitive skincare” is no longer popular, how can they change the brand’s concept.
